DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 26 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by St. Goar et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,629,534 B1.

St. Goar et al. disclose a method for treating a cardiac valve, such as valvular regurgitation, the method comprising the steps of:

advancing a catheter to a cardiac valve to be treated (see col. 3, lines 53-55); and delivering radiofrequency energy to the valve annulus to heat the annulus so as to treat valvular regurgitation (see col. 5, lines 41-46).

St. Goer et al. further teach the use of a drug during the treatment (see col. 6, lines 18-28), the drug selected from the group consisting of adenosine ($C_{10}H_{13}N_5O_4$), esmolol, and isofluorane. Note, in this Office Action, the term aldehyde is broadly defined as: any of a class of organic compounds that are analogous to acetaldehyde (C_2H_4O) and characterized by a carbonyl group attached to a hydrogen atom.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over St. Goar et al. in view of Peredo US Patent NO. 6,409,759.

St. Goar et al., described above, teach the use of chemical agent such as adenosine to provide the treatment. Peredo discloses an alternative treatment device and method for the treatment of a heart valve. Peredo further teaches the use of a chemical compounds such as aldehydes. Hence, at the time of the applicant's invention, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify St. Goar et al. in view of Peredo and use chemical agents such as aldehydes as an alternative equivalent agents to enhance the treatment.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11, 12, and 14-25 are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 3735

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
